DirecTV provides closed captioning everywhere the networks offer this service. Unfortunately not all networks, or all programs on all networks, are closed captioned. 15. Is high definition (HD) available?

High definition (HD) is not available in the halls of residence at this time. HD services require substantial network resources. The amount of bandwidth needed to provide HD service given current technologies could interfere with the normal operation of the data network, and possibly prevent residents from being able to use their computers.

We hope to offer HD service in the next 1 – 2 years, and will be monitoring and testing compression and distribution formats on campus networks.

20. I have DirecTV at home. Can I that equipment or transfer my subscription to here?

The subscription at Cornell must be a separate account.

The usual cause of this is that you are on a "soft disconnect", that is a prelude to a complete disconnect. Be sure that your account is fully paid up by using the on-line account management facility at www.directv.com, or by calling DIRECTV customer service at 1-800-531-5000. A common cause for this is replacing your credit/debit card that supports the account, but forgetting to update your account.

Check that you are still properly connected, and that the LED's in the Ethernet switch and USB-Ethernet adapter are lit as indicated in the Installation Guide (available at Installation Instructions).

Reset your receiver by opening the front access door and pressing the RESET button.

If this does not correct the problem call Campus Televideo support at 866-440-2003

DIRECTV IP receivers previously activated can be transferred to another student provided the account that was disconnected has been paid in full with no delinquent monies owed and you purchase a new access card. The cost of the new access card is $35 plus shipping and handling.

Please go to <http://www.campustelevideo.com/student-services/cornell-accesscard.asp> to order a new access card. This card will be mailed to your attention so a valid mailing address will be required. Please return your old access card for a $10 credit toward your purchase. The refund will be applied to your credit card. You have 14 days to mail back the old access card to qualify for the $10 credit. A prepaid/self addressed label will be provided.
